

For Sallow, Blotchy, Rough or Greasy Skins

(From Woman's Tribune)

Some skins require constant grooming to keep them from becoming oily, muddy, blotchy or rough, or if such condition has developed, to overcome it. In such chronic cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep piling on cosmetics which clog the pores, collect dust and dirt—especially in warm weather—making the complexion worse than ever. It's a lot more sensible to use ordinary mercurized wax which literally absorbs the bad complexion. Apply this wax, like cold cream, before retiring; next morning, in washing it off, you'll wash away the flour-like particles of the unsightly cuticle. Repeat for a week or more and you'll have an entirely new skin—soft, satiny, spotless and beautiful as a child's. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drugstore, is all you'll need.

If the skin be wrinkled or dry, here's the best possible remedy: Mix a pint with alcohol and 1 ounce powdered salicylic acid and use as a face wash. It works like a miracle, yet is entirely harmless.

RAN AWAY WITH 14 YEAR OLD GIRL

Worcester Couple Arrested Friday Evening and Held by Newburgh Police.

About midnight Thursday Capt. Denahie J. Twomey received a telephone call from police headquarters at Worcester, Mass., asking him to be on the lookout for a runaway couple from that city. They arrived in Newburgh Friday and by 8:30 in the evening they had been located and arrested. Police Officer D'Amico made the arrests.

The man in the case was Tony Vitteret of this city, 22 years old, who has been working in Worcester, and the girl was 14 years old Consuelita Ginterelli, whose parents live in Worcester, and promptly after her departure notified the police authorities. Vitteret has a brother in this city and the couple were arrested at his home on Talmadge street on Friday evening. The girl is lame and though her parents claim she is only 14 she appears older and is attractive in appearance. They passed Thursday night in Jewett City.

The two prisoners remained in cells during the night and this morning the Worcester police are coming down to take charge of them. The charge against the man may be seduction. They said that they were not married.

NEW LONDON TEACHER SUES FOR $5,000

Defective Sidewalk Caused Her to Fall and Badly Injure Herself

Elizabeth H. Strickland of New London makes the city of New London the defendant in a claim for damages of $5,000 filed with Assistant Clerk Elbert R. Norman of the New London county superior court on Friday. The plaintiff alleges that on August 16, 1911, a certain piece of sidewalk at 730 in the evening she fell and sustained numerous damages. She sprained her left ankle, had a hole cut in the top of her right foot, and suffered bruises on her right knee and side. Her back was strained and she was confined to the house for some time. She was forced to expend $100 for medicines and medical attention, she was obliged to engage a substitute at $5 a month to take her place as a teacher of deaf and dumb pupils in a New York city school and she was kept from teaching pupils outside the school, for which she would have received $324. She therefore claims damages of $5,000.

Good Progress On County Road Work

Towns Down the River Have Been Supplied With Oil, and This Vicinity is Now Getting Treatment—Twenty-Six Hundred Automobiles Passed Over New London Turnpike in Seven Days—Six Mile Macadam to Jewett City Will Probably be Begun in Short Time.

Unprecedented activity on all the roads in Connecticut is especially well shown by the work that has been done in New London county this summer. The application of oil to the state roads, to preserve them and to lay the dust, has been the most important part of the work, perhaps, but at the same time numerous repairs and some construction work has been undertaken by the men at work in this section of the state under the direction of Deputy State Highway Inspector John Donovan of Norwich.

For the next ten days road oiling will be going on actively in this vicinity. Two cars have been recently unloaded for the Norwich state roads, one here and one at Yantic, and every day a car is expected at Montville. In order that the roads in that town may be completed. Since the oiling was started, in the latter part of June, East Lyme, Waterford, North Waterford, Colchester, Franklin, and part of Montville and Norwich have had their state highways sprinkled by the men under supervision of Inspector Donovan. Litchfield, New London, and Groton are also on the list. The whole county will have received its treatment of oil within the next two or three weeks. Sprague, for which a car of oil is now waiting at Baltic, North Stonington, Griswold and Stonington are towns yet to be visited. This week the sprinklers have been working in Old Lyme. In all about 250,000 gallons of oil will be used for the roads of New London county.

The value of the oil, both as a preservative of macadam and as a dust layer, is nowhere better shown than on the highway between this city and New London. In seven days, recently, Inspector Donovan's men have counted 2,600 automobiles using this road, besides 574 horse drawn vehicles and 99 bicycles and motorcycles. Mr. Donovan proposes to make a similar count of travel on the state roads in this southern part of the county over which the shore line tourists travel. Four men are kept controlling the New London turnpike constantly.

In addition to the oiling, the state road employees have been helping in re-laying roads, among the officials who have been assisted recently being: Selectman George A. Knolls of Lebanon, Selectman J. Harvey Kennedy of Lisbon, and Selectman James H. Shea of Griswold.

Between Pachaug and Jewett City a three and one-half mile stretch of macadam is being laid, while engineers are working to the limit, even on Sundays, on the plans for the six mile stretch of new road from the Lisbon bridge at Tatfield to Jewett City. This much desired piece of road will be started on not far in the future. In regard to new work yet to be started, surveys are at work on lines from Vequeetuck to Stonington borough, and thence to Mystic, and there are also plans for highway improvements at Lord's Point, Fort Hill and at Golden Spur.

FIRST BAND CONCERT PLEASED HAPPY THROG.

Fear of Rain Did Not Diminish the Attendance in the Least—Fine Programme Given.

The first of the series of public band concerts to be conducted by the city was given on Union Square Friday evening, and several thousand people and about thirty automobiles were gathered on the square during the pleasing programme, well rendered by Tubbs' band. Every available spot in the vicinity of the band stand was occupied. A small part of the crowd was driven away by the light rain which fell about 8:30 o'clock, but the majority stayed, evidently considering the music worth a slight wetting. The programme of eight numbers opened at 8 o'clock and lasted an hour and a half, and each selection met with applause from the well pleased audience. The band was led by Frank E. King. The band stand was erected in a short space of time beneath the electric light near Broadway church and removed as quickly on the conclusion of the concert. Two hours later the square had been swept by the street department men and presented a spick and span appearance.

BLAZE AT DEL-HOFF.

Department Called to Broadway for Blaze in Rubbish—No Loss.

When John W. L. Calt was burning some rubbish in the heater in the basement of the Del-Hoff hotel about 10 o'clock Friday morning some of the material scattered outside the heater became ignited, and the flames were spreading beyond the control of Mr. Calt, who is an aged man. Chief Stanton was called by telephone, and seeing the hotel filled with rubbish, he called out the apparatus by an alarm from box 4, corner of Broadway and Shepley streets. The fire was quickly extinguished with chemical and there was no loss, hardly a trace of the blaze to be seen Friday night.

Mr. Calt found himself in the center of the blazing debris, but he was extricated from this trying position unharmed.

FORMER NORWICH TOWN GIRL BRIDE OF TWO HOURS

Carl A. Lunt Showed His Wife from Train on Honeymoon Trip and Rode on Alone.

A special despatch to The Bulletin Friday night contained the following interesting bit of news concerning a former resident here:

Athol, Mass., Aug. 9.—Two hours a bride and then came away at a lonely way station on their honeymoon trip while train and bridegroom sped on never to return, is the story that Mrs. Sylvia Adams, formerly of Norwich, Conn., alleges she heard behind her veil of divorce from Carl A. Lunt. The wedding bells chimed in Keene, N. H., December 9, 1905; their peals were still sounding as blushing bride and smiling bridegroom boarded the train southward bound. The bride says that the Hayward station the groom said: "Is it where we got out?" Mrs. Lunt claimed without thought of any guile she left the car only to be pushed to the station platform by her husband as he darted back into the car and closed the door. Mrs. Lunt has not heard or seen her husband since that time for seven years. Mrs. Lunt has supported herself, she claims, working in Athol, Worcester and Norwich. The last known residence of Mr. Lunt was Los Angeles, Cal. At last she has appealed to Superior court through Attorney Charles Field of Athol, legally to break the marriage bond that, according to her claim, had been severed illegally two hours after he took the vow to keep and cherish her through life.

Peanut Wagon on Fire.

Just prior to the band concert on Friday evening many people on their way to that happy affair witnessed a miniature fire on Main street near the postoffice when a lamp was overturned on a peanut vendor's stand and a gorgeous blaze resulted until a pall of water was applied. The owner rushed along the street with his push cart, looking for help, which came in time to prevent serious damage.

MAY LOSE LICENSE.

New Londoner Charged with Violation of the Lobster Fishing Law.

Fish and Game Commissioner Hewes of Groton, County Game Warden Bradford of Montville, and Constable Dimmock of Waterford secured the arraignment of George A. Norcery, a fisherman, before Police Judge Colt in New London, Friday morning, for having violated the law relating to lobster permits. Norcery had a license and placed it in the hands of another fisherman.

The statute provides the license shall be revoked if transferred, and there is a general penalty for infractions of any terms of the law. On the plea that Norcery should suffer loss of license but should not be made the defendant of criminal action Attorney Smith demurred Friday morning. The case was continued until August 14 for argument on the demurrer.

1325 Mile Auto Trip.

David D. Disco and family have returned from a 1,325 mile trip through the Adirondacks. The party was gone 22 days and a delightful time was experienced throughout the trip. Among the places visited were Springville, Albany, Saratoga Springs, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Saranac Lake, and Mr. Disco's former home at Disco, N. Y., where some time was spent visiting relatives. Excellent roads were encountered all the way. But one puncture was suffered throughout the journey.
